Business group to hold meeting

The University Park Business Association (UPBA) is holding its first quarterly general membership meeting at 5:30 p.m. today at Hattie's Cafe, 491 Brown St. in Akron.

Owners of businesses in the University Park neighborhood, both association members and prospective members, are invited to attend this free event.

Ken Stapleton, senior economic development adviser and executive director of the Alliance, and Bob Bowman, deputy mayor of economic development, will share information about recent and planned developments. Acting officers will present information about plans and opportunities.
